Pre-Kindergarten October Family Workshop

STEAM + L with Candy Corn

(Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, Mathematics, Literature)

Storybooks are part of our computer sessions for Grades 1-5. This month's stories focused on the importance of limited screen time and following directions. After our stories, Grades 1-2 focused on MS Word skills, and Grade 3-4 created a simple animation.

Grade 5 has focused on the table tools in MS Word to create a maze. Grade 6 has focused on several features in MS Word to create a simple comic strip.

2nd Grade ROCKS

Well, the 2nd graders are off to a great start!! We are moving along in all subject areas. Despite the technology challenges with NWEA, we did get our testing done! The 2nd graders are happy to announce that they took 1st place in Hometown Credit Union's pumpkin decorating contest!! They were super excited when I told them! We got news that we will be having a pizza party for getting 1st place! Thank you, Hometown Credit Union!! Please check out our 1st day of school picture, and the picture of the pumpkin we decorated.

3rd GRADE

The third graders have been busy writing this month! They wrote funny stories about what they would tell their teacher if they lost their homework. These were definitely fantasy stories! I'm glad none of their stories have come true. Then they wrote scarecrow stories. They had to pretend they were scarecrows and could get off their pole at night. Let's just say some of the scarecrows really helped the farmers. While some of the scarecrows made more work for the farmers, but the practical jokes were hilarious. The third graders have also completed their timeline and autobiography reports. This is always one of my favorite projects with the third graders! I love looking at their pictures and reading about their lives! If you want to read any of the third graders projects, they are hanging in the hall outside our classroom. I am so proud of the third graders!

I ♥ FOURTH GRADE

The 4th graders have been very busy these last few months. Too many things to list, but a few favorites have been:

- Whitestone Battlefield Field trip
- Fort Lincoln/The Heritage Center Field trip
- Science experiments making cells, being birds to see which beak is best for different foods
- Journal writing
- Musical Multiplication
- Using our bodies to create math polygons
- Different spelling review games to help with learning our words
- The stories that we read after lunch
- Dark Marker English videos to help with parts of speech
- Math Fortune

I am proud of this awesome, silly, unique, crazy group of kids. Every day is different and that is what's special about teaching. Sometimes we just need to get over the humps and bumps, but they learn that they can do it!

I'm proud of these individuals and can't wait to see the great things they will do in the world!

Ashley Public School is proud to acknowledge two of our teachers for their participation and recognition for outstanding teaching practices and interesting innovations in a weekly podcast called The Cutting Ed. Mrs. Bichler and Mrs. Schmidt have joined forces to have their students collaboratively write with each other. Some benefits students receive from this project are: students grow as a person and can also learn to share their feedback to others in nice and productive ways, English isn't just important in English class, but can be applied to several areas of life, and that it is useful for all courses and grade levels. Collaborating also contributes to school community.

AWESOMENESS TV

Once again, Ashley School is taking part in the Box Top program. Please save your box tops from participating products and send them to school with your children or grandchildren. Please make sure to check the expirations on the box tops as the ones that are expired are un-redeemable. The money earned from the box tops goes to do fun things for our students, that otherwise we wouldn't be able to do. Thank you very much!!

STUDENT OF THE MONTH

Congratulations

Riley Molter, son of Terry Molter and Lisa Gilstad has been selected for October Student of the Month. Riley's positive attitude adds greatly to his class and the school. He is a hard worker in class and uses his time wisely to get the task done. He keeps up on his assignments along with being in several extracurricular activities. He demonstrates great respect to his peers, teachers, and staff and can be counted on when asked to do tasks outside of the classroom.

The elementary students had some special guests October 16. Cotter Dental from Ellendale, spent an hour with our students talking about how to take care of our teeth - how and when to brush, flossing, what tooth bacteria looks like, and a chance to practice brushing on some model teeth! Each student was given a bag containing everything they needed to get started on healthy care of gums and teeth. Even the teachers got a bag of supplies! Thank you Cotter Dental!

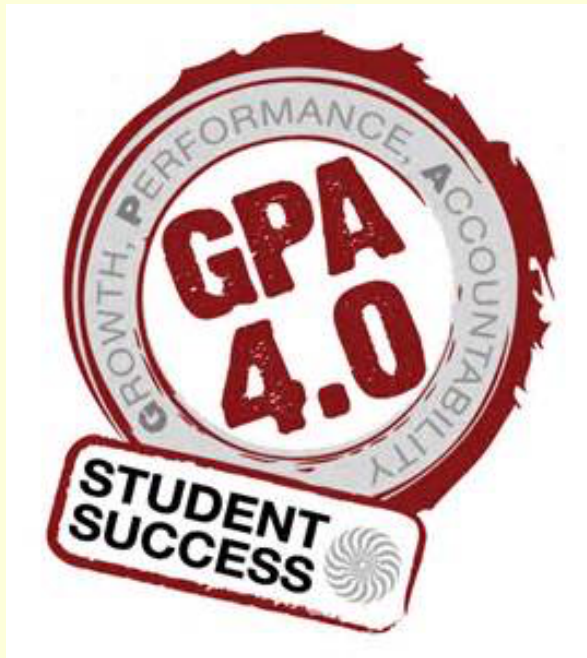

Thank you to the many who volunteer at the concession stand! It is much appreciated! Volunteers are always needed and if you'd like to help out, please call the school office at 288-3456!
